DURATION

Half day

What the NIS2 directive really changes in roles outside IT: board accountability, training obligations and HR's role in building a security culture. Developed from my Cyber HR conference talk: no legal jargon, with a list of actions to implement.

WHAT WE COVER

- NIS2 in plain language: who is covered, what is required and by when
- Board accountability: personal responsibility and what evidence of oversight looks like
- Training obligations: what the directive expects and how to meet it without box-ticking
- HR's role: hiring, onboarding, offboarding and the human side of security culture
- Action list: the concrete steps for the next quarter, owner by owner

YOU LEAVE WITH

- A plain-language summary of NIS2 duties relevant to your roles
- An action list for the next quarter with suggested owners
- A training approach that satisfies the directive and actually changes behaviour

WHO IT IS FOR

Board members, HR directors and managers in organisations covered by NIS2, directly or through their customers. No legal or technical background needed.
